VOLUME XXVI-NO. 257.-EIGHT PAGES.

ALUMNI MEET.

MIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES HOLD THEIR AN-RUAL REUNION PRIDAY EVENING.

A Business Meeting, Banquet and Concert-Over 400 Members of the Assoclation and It Is Growing Hapidly.

The ninth annual business meeting o the High School Alumni association was held in the Board of Trade rooms on Friday evening.

It was called to order by President Hambright, with a larger attendance than ever before at a business meeting. After the reading of the minutes and approval of the same, the members of the several classes appointed as a committee to secure members, reported that they had seen and urged their fellow classmates to join the association. They hoped by the next meeting to make a final report. The secretary's report showed the num-ber of graduates, including this year's class, to be 976, of which 398 are males and 578 are females. Of that number 130 males and 202 females are married, 40 males and 43 351, exclusive of this year's class. Seven members of the association were married during the year and of graduates 16 were married, of whom two couples were gradu-

The treasurer's report showed the receipts with balance on hand $107.60 and the expenditures $102.55, leaving a balance in the reasury of $3.05, and the auditing committee reported the account to be correct.

Election of members was next in order and 44 members of this year's class and 11 older graduates were proposed and elected. C. S. Stormfeltz offered the following, which was uranimously adopted : Resolved. That the executive committee to be appointed this evening be directed to arrange for a musicale to be held some time this fall, the proceeds of the same to go into the treasury of the association.

Misses Clara Ream, Minnie Breneman and Mary E. Gormley were appointed a committee to report officers to the association. They reported the following : President-George M. Hambright, '58. First Vice President-Thos. F. McElligott, '65. Second Vice President-Miss S. H.

Secretary—Harry I. Spencer, '76. Treasurer—John C. Carter, '71. Historian—John N. Hetrick, '84. These were elected officers by acclarus

The president appointed as the executive committee for the year: Misses Clara Ream '84, M. Grace Wylie '86, Messrs. C. S. Stormfeltz '83, W. H. Welchans '85. Auditing Committee: Wm. L. Marshall '85, Charles Heitshu '80, Misses Ella Musser 73, and Esther Metzger '85.

This ended the business meeting and the members of the association adjourned to the banquet room, where a collation had been prepared by Payne. The members welcomed in a neat speech by President Hambright, who regretted that he was unable to inflect a talk on them, but he could not, because the executive committee had tabooed speeches on this occasion and prepared a programme that will be more enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the banquet the following musical programme was rendered

Instrumental solo—"Carmencita," (Houseley)
Miss Ina C. Getz.
Tenor solo—"The Answer," Mr. F. B. McClain.
Vocal solo—"Manola" (Bourgeois) Miss M.
Grace Wylle.
Violin solo—Selection, Miss Alice M. Fahne-

Violin Bolo—Serector, Constant Secretary Spencer read letters from number of the members residing in the city regretting their inability to attend, and from the following members at distance : L. C. Doan, Philadelphia : George H. Richards, Columbia; Mrs. Anna M. Hart, Philadelphia; Mayne B. Hasler, Erie; A. Erlanger, Baltimore; Dr. Clark Burnham, Brooklyn; and W. Scott Adler, South Bend, Indiana.

The meeting of the association was the most successful yet held. The alumni association is now on a firm footing, with a membership of over four hundred, and with the effort to be made during the year to induce old graduates to join, the membership should be considerably above five hund red a year hence.

The Base Ball Games. The games of base ball played yesterday resulted as follows: Players' League—Philadelphia 7, Buffalo 5; Brooklyn 6, Cieveland 5; Pittsburg 10, New York 8; Chicago 2, Buster 9, 10 Chicago 2, Boston 0.

National League—Cleveland 7, Philadel-phia 3; Boston 7, Pittsburg 5; Brooklyn 7, Chicago 2; New York 8, Cincinnati 4. American Association — Syracuse 8, Brooklyn 7; Columbus 9, Toledo 5; St. Louis 8, Louisville 6. Interstate League—Easton 8, York 5; Harrisburg 6, Allentown 3; Lebauon 13, Altoona 4. Harrisburg would like to get into the Atlantic Association, but those people don' want them.

That dandy reporter of base ball for the Philadelphia Press in Lebanon says in his report of yesterday's game: "Smith pitched a grand game, being only hit five imes and thoroughly supported by Rogers, McCaffrey, Cross, Jacoby, Gill, Hasney and Graham." The young man made a great bluff to get every member of the team in, and it is a wonder he don't include the reporters, policemen, Superintendent Jackson and others; their support is worth Rigby, late manager of Lebanon, has copeluded not to accept the position of umpire of the Interstate League. If he would make as poor an umpire as he did a manager the people would not stand him

Lebanon seem to be able to do it to Altoons when the former are at home. People would do well to keep their eve on Jimmy McTamany's Columbus club.

It has already jumped to third place.

Going to Camp on the River. Last evening a number of young Lancaster men, who work in the Canton, Ohio, watch factory, and are now home on a summer vacation, met at Daniel Fry's hotel in Centre Square. They resolved to go down to Weise's Island to spend three days, and perhaps six, fishing and having a good time generally. They will leave on Monday morning at 6:30. The party will include the following: John Weise, Walter Snyder, William Manby, Al Maytour, Abe Highland, William G. Wolf, William Dittman, Charles McCulley, Wes Rooney, Peter Swartz and George Hoffman. Ned Frailey, of this city, will accompany the A Big Crop of Good Fruit. From the Lancaster Inquirer. From present indications, there will be an immense crop of blackberries. The stalks are already bent to the ground with the green fruit. To Take Flags to Harrisburg. Junior Mechanics of this city will present flags to schools in Harrisburg on the Fourth of July.

Appointed a Justice.

Jacob E. Stauffer, Rapho township, has been appointed a justice of the peace by the governor. His commission was received at the recorder's office this morning.

AGAINST DELAMATER.

A Knights of Labor Official Gives Reasons for Opposing Quay's Tool.

Hugh McGarvey, a prominent Republican and chairman of the executive committee of the Knights of Labor, in an interview in Hazleton on Friday night regarding Republican candidates, said: "Intelligent laboring men of the state, unorganized or organized, cannot support the Republican ticket, and I predict that they will not. Had the convention nominated any of the other candidates, the labor movement could find no place to crop up in the contest, but they have nominated two men who have very bad records on the labor measures which came before the Senate last season.

who have very bad records on the labor measures which came before the Senate last season.

"Of the important labor measures which came before the Senate Mr. Delamater voted for the employers' liability bill only, having first voted against it. He changed his vote after he saw that the bill had passed because he was a prospective candidate for the governorship, or for the purpose of having the vote reconsidered later on. I was on the floor of the Senate at the time, and could not fail to take particular notice of his action, as he was the only senator who voted against the bill and then changed for it. He did not vote on the factory inspection bill, which is equivalent to voting against it. He voted against Hines' store bill and against the dockage bill. For these two votes alone he should lose the support of the workingmen of the mining and manufacturing districts. As for Mr. Watres, the only vote labor received from him was on the employers' liability bill. I did not then, nor do I now, think that he was in earnest with this vote. He opposed the store bill and the dockage bill, and he led in the fight against both these bills, which leads me to think that he was false to labor. His opposition to the farmer was the subject of much comment, because of his manifest bitterness and his hidden and labor, and to which in my report as chairman of the legislative committee, issued last Sptember, I call particular attention. man of the legislative committee, issued last Sptember, I call particular attention.

"Mr. Watres deserves no support from the miners and laborers who suffer because of the store system and the dockage system, but on the contrary he has earned their most serious opposition. One of the first political pointers which I received after our committee had been stationed in Harrisburg, and our committee were all Republicans, was that Delamater and Watres were to be the next Republican Watres were to be the next Republican candidates for governor and lieutenant governor. My informant was one who stands very close to the machine. It is very important to notice that both Delamater and Watres were members of the Senate Judiciary general committee, which choked the semi-monthly pay bill after it had passed the House, and the Farrell store bill, and would have done the same with the dockage bill but for the persistent watening of Senator Hines. No, I do not think the convention could have chosen a worse or weaker ticket. The Democratic convengive the thousands who cannot swallow the Harrisburg nominees a chance to be Ex-Congressman Osmar, of Franklin, a Republican, says that under no consideration will be vote for or support Dela-or weaker ticket. The Democratic conven tion has a chance to put a winning ticket in the field, and I hope they will do so, and mater.

C. C. Dickey, a leading member of the Allegheny county bar and a stanch Republican, says: "Mr. Delamater ought to be defeated, and I am sure he will be. Montooth or Hastings would have made far better candidates, because they are honest men. I for one will never support Delamater.

Pittsburg Kicking. From Magee's Pittsburg Times, June 26.

Senator Quay yesterday accomplished a purpose which he declared six months ago, but which thousands of anxious Republicans have hoped he had abandoned. As early as the beginning of this year he said: "I have been making governors all my life, and yet I have never had one of my own. I am going to nominate Delamater and know how it feels to own a governor of Pennsylvania just for once.'

He was the only candidate whose nomination could put the party on the defensive from the beginning to the end of the campaign; the only candidate charged with grave offences so publicly and responsibly that the leading Republican newspapers in the metropolis of the state, the Philadelphia Press, declared that he must answer them before self-respecting Republicans them before self-respecting Republicans could support him; the only candidate whose record in the Senate was condemned by large and influential bodies of citizens; the weakest possible candidate.

Such a nomination, made by such methods, against such protests and despite such warning—made to accomplish a declared intention to "own a governor of Pennsylvania"—is only explainable as the act of a man intoxicated with absolute power and reckless of consequences.

From the Pittsburg Dispatch (Republican.) The political agony is over, and Delama-ter gets the Republican nomination. Of ter gets the Republican nomination. Of all the candidates before the convention he was the only objectionable one, and the only one who was bitterly, and upon sub-stantial grounds, opposed both within and without the party. But he had the grip on the machinery; and he got there.

To carry the election is, however, quite another matter. Hastings, Montooth or Stone would have won easily. Delamater.

Stone would have won easily. Delamater, on the other hand, is bandicapped from the start by intense antagonism, partly on factional, largely on public grounds; by open predictions from prominent Republicans that "any Democrat can beat him;" and, most account of the product of most serious of all, by a record at Harris-burg which places him under the greatest suspicion, if it does not absolutely prove that he was more distinguished there as a that he was more distinguished there as a useful and conspicuous agent of powerful corporations than as a valuable servant of the public. The weightiest complaint in illustration is that, in the interest of the Standard Oil company, he killed the Billingsley bill, which was intended for the relief of the oil producers.

From the Pittsburg Chronicie, Rep.

From the Pittsburg Chronicle, Rep. The nomination of Delamater continues to meet with condemnation from Republicans all over the state. A large number of Republican papers in the East, and particularly in the anthracite region, declare that Republican success has been more than endangered by the naming of the Crawford senator. This feeling seems to grow rather than diminish, and it apparently is of a character which will remain ently is of a character which will remain fixed and unchangeable until it expression at the polls in November. nomination of any other man who was before the convention would have been the dawning of another bright day such as years of the past. It is a time of twilight night looks as though i would be dark.

The Pittsburg Leader (Independent editorially advocates the nomination of an Independent Republican ticket.

A Sermon to the Graduates. A sermon specially appropriate to the high school graduates will be preached in Trinity church, by the pastor, Rev. Charles L. Fry. to-morrow evening at quarter before eight o'clock. The theme of the sermon will be "The need of a postgraduate systematic study of the Bible, as essential to a complete education. "

The Euterprise Cigar Co. Chartered. The Enterprise Cigar company, of Ste vens, Lancaster county, has been left for record at the recorder's office. The capital stock of the company is $10,000, the directors Mary Bertolet, Robert H. McKee, Thos. S. McKee and Josephine McKee, and the treasurer is Daniel M. Bertolet. The object of the corporation is the manufacture and sale of cigars.

Dogs to be Slaughtered. There are nine dogs in the station house pen to-day, and they will be taken out and killed this evening. People whose dogs are missing will have to go to the police headquarters soon to save them.

Dr. Alexander Busy. Marierra, June 28.—There are busy scenes at Dr. Alexander's vaccine farm. Virus to cover ten thousand points is produced each day.

THE SPELA.

THE MUSICIANS WHO WILL TAKE THE PROMINENT PART IN IT.

All Arrangements Perfected for the Three Day's Festival-Visitors to Arrive in This City on Tuesday.

gerfest of the Lancaster Liederkranz, to be held during the greater part of next week, promises to be the most sucaffair of the kind that has ever taken place in I ancaster. All preparations are complete, and little more can be done intil Tuesday, when the strangers will begin to arrive.

The sængerfest is being held to celebrate the tenth anniversary of the Lancaster Liederkranz. The society was organized in June, 1880. Previous to that time there had been a society on a small scale which did not succeed. The present society was ora dozen or more singers, and the first Gotleib Geratley; vice president, John Spangler; secretary, August D. Kohler; treasurer, John B. Wolf; conductors, Prof.

From the time that the society was started it was a success. It began to increase very rapidly in membership and soon had gained a very solid foundation. For the first couple of years the place of meeting was on the third floor of Philip Lebzelter's Schiller house. The membership of the society increased so rapidly that the place became too small, and it was found nec essary to find larger quarters. In 1883 the building of Lawrence Knapp, on Grant street, now occupied by the society, was rented and they at once removed to it. They have two fine large rooms there and many other conveniences.

At present the society has no less than 312 members, including many of Lancas er's most prominent citizens. The officers are as follows: President, A. D. Kohler vice president, Adam J. Ricker; secretary Ernest Roehm; treasurer, Gotleib Gerstley conductor, Edward Linder. Of the original active members who assisted in organizing the society there are but three who are still active. They are Lorenz Falk, Philip Stumpf and August Kohler. The follow ing is a complete list of the active mem-

First tenors-Philip Stumpf, G. Willian Freitag, Herman Timber, Otto Borchardt Carl Miller, Edward Korn and Fred

Schmidt.
Second tenors—Joseph A. Albert, Jacob Hartstein, Oscar Peters, Gallert Streiner, Heinrich Elbert and George Webs, First bass—Ernest Roehm, Carl Baechle, Victor Roth, August Nauth, Fred. Maurr. Second bass—August D. Kohler, Lorenz Falk, Fred. Boettger, Carl Bauman, Carl F. Ostermyer and Richard Peters.

It will be seen by the above list that the

It will be seen by the above list that the ociety has quite a number of singers, and they have good voices. The whole organization is in a sound condition, every way The subscriptions made by the citizens of the town have been very liberal, and nothing will be left undone to show the visitors a good time.

WHO WILL SING. Prominent among the other socities that will take part in the sængerfest is the Lauaster Monnerchor, the officers and singer of which are as follows: President, Jacob Seibert; vice president, Frank Hammel; secretary, Henry Schmitt; assistant secretary, G. H. Ostermyer; conductor, Prof. Carl Matz ; treasurer, Henry Gerhart. First Tenor - Henry Drachbar, Henry

Christian Hoefel, Carl Dinkleberg, Hauser. Second Tenors—William Balz, George Pfeiffer, Jacob Scheid, Frank Barnhardt, John Bradel, George Erisman and G. Ret-

lig.
First Bass — William Wohlsen, John Doerr, Paul Eppe, Joseph Kinder, John Koellisch and Christian Bohn. Second Bass — Henry Gerhart, Peter Weber, H. Rudy, Charles Rettig, Frederick Keonig, Julius Abraham, Christian Bradel and Ferd Weber.

The officers and singers of the out of own societies are as follows: Liederkranz, Philadelphia: F. Schlaich, president; J. Moser, secretary; Win. E. Winter, conductor.

Winter, conductor.

First Tenor—H. Upmann, John Hagner, Louis Walker, John Yerger, E. Oppermann, Wm. Conzelmann, Carl Reichmann.
Second Tenor—Fritz Strochlein, F.
Muckenfuss, G. Linhorst, Albert Lang, A.
J. Moser, Geo. Mueller, Wm. Streissguth,
Geo. Woertz, jr., G. Hagner, A. Goebel, L.
R. Gersen. Gerson. First Bass John Bernhard, Fr. Schlaich

Wm. Zinn, John Schlaich, Al. Schmidt, Theo. Rolle, Friedr. Schmitzler, A. Becker, Bauer, A. M. Finkbeiner, George Fink beiner. Second Bass-Jacob Butscher, Jul. Nick

Fi. Trenkpohl, Wm. Schladensky, John Duerr, A. Lotz, A. Webrie, A. Becker, F. Rommel, Philipp Koch, H. Koch, E. Tueb-Harmonie Mænnerchor, of Reading : Win. Rosenthal, president; Carl Tiehel, secre-tary; J. W. Yost, conductor. First Tenor—Henry Lencke, Louis Bat-

enfeld, Christ Schroth, Herman Hammel, Heiterich Kuhlman, Wm. Schoellkopf, Michael Moser, August Schoellkopf. Second Tenor—Henry Hammel, J. W. Yost, Jonathan Schrack, Carl Amreihn, Joseph O. Flatt, Carl Mueller, First Bass—Wm. Rosenthal, Mart. Archenhroon, Jacob Hammel, Thomas Tiehel, Carl Reinert, Edw. Stages, Mart. Floras Tehel, arl Reinert, Edw. Stoeper, Mart. Klein

Second Bass—Nicolaus Schmidt, Her. stech, Eit Schulhoff, Ernst Wolschendorf Carl Tiehel. Liederkranz, Reading: Philipp Klinge-man, president; Wm. Eidam, secretary; John Dersch, conductor. First Tenor-William Eidam, Gottleib

Haisch, Herman Schreiber, Wm. Ruck gaber, J. G. Fischer. Second Tenor—Aug. Glaser, Aug. Hess, Eugene Arnoldy, Clemens Urban. First Bass—Heinrich Lind, Geo. Brenner, Solomon Bodenheimer.

Second Bass-Herman Sarbry, P Klingeman, Frank Diehl, Julius Wolf.

Klingeman, Frank Diehl, Julius Wolf.
Germania-Mænnerehor, Baltimore: H.
A. Kemper, president: H. Rodekurt, socretary; D. Melamet, conductor.
First Tenor—Aug. Pfeil, Chas. Zimmerman. W. F. Assau, Wm. Redeman, T. F.
Bengel, L. Bemer, H. C. Rossbach, A.
Ziegler, C. S. Schwarz, Aug. Miller,
Second Tenor—Jul. Rinn, G. D. Ahrling,
Phil. Freitag, H. Rinn, jr., Ernst Krueger,
C. Schann, F. Storm, C. D. Volkmar, A.
W. Boehner, Otto Reich, Chas. G. Struth,
B. Reinhardt, Jno. Weber, Phil. Practorius,
First Bass—H. Freitag, H. A. Kemper,
H. Rodekurt, Wm. Kerckhoff, H. Thies,
Carl Leager, Jno. A. Becker, Otto Grove,
Geo. Geiwitz, jr., H. Mertz, jr., Jos*
Schreiber.

Sehreiber.
Second Bass—F. Roeder, Wm. Hass,
Aug. Schuppert, Carl A. Strasser, Ed.
Kuenne, F. Sendelbach, O. Bitfer, H.
Charles Ruppell raemer, F. Filliprin, Charles Ruppell, John Hoffmeister, August Walter.

Arbeiter Mænnerchor. Baltimore: F. Scheidt, president; F. Hendricks, secretary; W. Hartman, conductor.
First Tenor-Fr. Volibracht, sr., H. Rolkhorst, F. Hendricks, R. Hendricks, Krause, Heinzius, Vollman, Pfannmiller, Second Tener

Loeffler.
Second Tenor — Wacker, Volckman, Schreiber, Wagner, Junker, Halzhauer, Benyo, John Itter, Herget, Hollman Gissel, Wm. Reuter.
First Bass—Ch. Thater, Phil. Geidt, H.
Schrader, O. Winnecke, Urban, Stier,
Brown, Zieget. Schrader, O. Brown, Zieget. Second Bass.—F. Scheidt, Volz, Bitter, Bittorf, Kandler, Eugene V. Mitzell, Pass, Andreas, Pleutsch.

St. Louis Visitors Thomas J. Killian, wife and daughter, of St. Louis, are visiting the family of Samuel Erisman, 145 Shippen street. They have not been East for thirteen years. They will spend the summer here.

kidneys and skin street, PA., SATURDAY, JUNE 90 TO-IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

> How the Bargain of Two Old Kings Bothers the Fishermen.
>
> The irritation in Newfoundland continues, and has been aggravated by the action of Bir Baldwin Walker, the captain of a British war ship, who closed the lobster factories of a Mr. Baird, who had refused to the state the second to the state the second to the of Sir Baldwin Walker, the captain of a British war ship, who closed the lobster factories of a Mr. Baird, who had refused to obey the captain's order to close them. Mr. Baird has served a writ on the captain, and twenty-six other lobster packers will take the same course.

The Newboundlanders are mostly descendants of Englishmen and Irishmen from the south of Ireland, immigration having ceased for fifty years. They are merchants, planters or fishermen, but the one great industry of the island is cod fishing. The merchants are generally men of wealth and education and are the ruling class of Newfoundland. They sell supplies of all kinds and vessels and outlite for fishing. The planters are middlemen, who supply the capital for the fishermen. They own the plant and dispose of the fisherman's catch when he returns from a voyage. The term planter is a little misleading, as they are not farmers, and there are few genuine farmers on the island. It is maintained that there is good land for farming in the sheltered interior, but the operations of the French and the apathy of the mother country appear to have prevented the development of the country by railroad building. Coal, mica, copper, lead, silver and gold have been found near the French west coast, and coal has been mined but could not be brought to market because the French would not allow the erection of wharves or the building of railroads. The feeling against the French did not become strong until the Newfoundlanders began to feel the effects of a French bounty on codfish granted for the purpose of developing their cod-fishing industry so as to supply sailors for the French navy. These bounties equaled the cost of catching the fish, and as a result French navy. These bounties equaled the cost of catching the fish, and as a result French competition has taken the great European markets from the Newfoundlanders and greatly impoverished them. Their average earnings have fallen below two hundred and fifty dollars a season, and starvation or omigration are starin nundred and fifty dollars a season, and starvation or emigration are staring them in the face, while the French fisherinen right on their own coast steadily increase in numbers and prosperity. A Newfoundland correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that one of the fishfork 771000 Writes that one of the list-ermen, "an intelligent old chap, with a frame of iron and a face as gentle as that of the great black dog which lay on the "flake" beside him, put the case in this way : "It were all well enough, sir, in them days begones before me an' me fourteen childer was borned at all; for thim two ould kings to patch up their quarrels by slicin' up Nuffunion' betwist 'cm. Ay, it shein up Nulunion' belwixt 'em. Ay, it were all right thin, d'ye see? But now, me an' me fourteen childer is here, an' we couldn't help bein' here, none of us, an' bein' here, we've our living' to mek, an' we don't give a dom about thim dead-an'-gone-kings' nor what they said."

He adds that American rifles of the best

He adds that American rifles of the best makes have been largely purchased by the colonists, and they are now determined not to rest until they have gotten rid of the French. "They do not believe, if the worst came to the worst, that England would leave them to be destroyed by French gun-boats. They think their cause appeals to humanity, and that the public sentiment of Christendom is rapidly marshalling itself at their back."

DIXON WHIPS WALLACE. The Boston Pugilist Easily Defeats the

About a thousand privileged persons assembled at the Pelican club, London, on Friday night, to witness the fight between the bantam-weights, George Dixon, of Boston, and Nune Wallace, of England. Both men appeared in fine condition and the betting, which was 6 to 4 in favor of Dixon, was spirited.

In the first round Wallace did all the leading, but failed to land with any effect. In the second round Dixon forced the tighting, and Wallace in ducking to avoid a hot right-hander, touched Dixon's legs. Englishman.

cries of foul were raised, and Dixon's seconds demanded a decision from the referce. The claim was not allowed, as the nfraction of the rules on the part of Wal ace was obviously accidental. Wallac dagged in the third round, and was forced bard by Dixon in the fourth. Wallace held his own in the fifth, sixth and seventh rounds, and managed to keep Dixon from him in the eighth and ninth. Up to this time, although the fighting had been fast, the hitting was not heavy, but in the tenth round Dixon landed on Wallace's cheek and knocked him down. Wallace was bleading freely when carried to his was bleeding freely when carried to his corner and at the end of every subsequent round was noticeably weaker than at the beginning.

In the eighteenth round Dixon fought In the eighteenth round Dixon fought Wallace all around the ring, hitting him as he pleased. Wallace finally reached his corner before the round was finished and dropped his hands. Dixon made a feint, but Wallace made no attempt to defend himself. For a second or two he leaned heavily against the ropes, completely winded and severely punished and then gave up the fight. gave up the fight. Dixon appeared to be as fresh as when he entered the ring and was loudly cheered as the referee announced his victory.

Congressman Vaux's Maiden Speech. In the House, on Friday, the debate on the federal election bill was continued, and Mr. Vaux, the member from the Taird

Mr. Vaux, the member from the Third Pennsylvania district, made a vigorous ar-gument against the measure, which com-manded close aftention from the House. The Philadelphia Ledger says: Mr. Vaux spoke from rough notes, and occupied the floor for about 40 minutes. He addressed himself to the legality of the bill, claiming that it was unconstitutional, and that it in-terfered with the rights of the states to de-termine the manner of holding elections. termine the manner of holding elections It virtually took from the peeple the right to control their elections and placed them in the hands of irresponsible agents, who were given absolute power to direct the elections in all their details and absolute freedom from any responsibility for their actions. The vigor of Mr. Vaux's style, as well as the strength of his argu-ment and the original idea of his matter, was a surprise to most of the members of the House. His remarks were inter-spersed with illustrations, the aptness and humor of which gave additional inter-est to his speech and frequently drew laughter and applause from both sides. Mr. Vaux was given close sttention throughout his remarks, many the Republican members leaving the seats and crowding together in front of the orator, who occupies a seat in the front row on the Democratic side. Upon concluding he was warmly congratulated by the Democrats. By his speech on Friday Mr. Vaux has placed himself in the front rank of the best debaters on the Democratic

An Old Man and Life.

From the N. Y. Tribune. The Hon. Lewis Barker, of Bangor, Me. recently sent to Henry P. Rolfe, of Concord, N. Y., in answer to a letter of condocord, N. Y., in answer to a letter of condo-lence, a photograph of Mr. Barker, taken at seventy years of age. On the back of the photograph Mr. Barker had written the following original lines: Seventy swings of Life's pendulum Seem many and slow to count; Seventy rounds in the ladder of life Seem long and tolisome to mount; But every swing of the pendulum Means Life as well as Time. And the wider view from each ladder round, Still makes me willing to climb.

The Lancaster Bar Picnic. The members of the Lancaster bar are pienieking at Tells Hain to-day, and in consequence Barbary Coast is deserted. Many of the members went out early this morning to put in a full day. The dinner, served at 4 o'clock this afternoon, was prepare i under the directions of a committee of the members appointed at the semi-

Philip Bonce Sent Out. Philip Bonce was sent to jail for ten day by Alderman Barr last evening for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. threatening to kill Mrs. Charles Craig he was committed in default of ball for trial annual meeting.

RESCUERS . PDA THEY FAIL TO MAKE AN OPENING. FARM COLLIERY.

For Bargains,

Proves to Be a Crevice-The Men Undaunted By Their Misfortune. DUNBAR, June 28 .- Again are the res cuers and relatives of the 31 entombed

What Was Thought to Be the Mine

niners doomed to disappointment. The four brave men who took their lives in their hands when they went into Mahoning pit last night came out this morning without having pierced Farm Hill mine. The whole drilled into what was supposed to be an entry of the ill-fated mine last night was only a crevice. The rescuers declare that maps are wrong and they are as much in the dark now as any time since the search was begun, 13 days ago. The regular shift started in again this morning and the brave but disheartened men are once more searching for an entry that will lead them into the burning pit. The work is very dangerous, but the men will not abandon the search until they have accomplished their purpose and found their comrades or the flerce fire forces them to give up the task. The fire in the mine is burning with great floreeposs and immense volumes of smoke and flames are issuing from the mouth of the pit.

TELEGRAPHIC TAPS.

JUNE 28 John C. Wheeler, of Brunswick, Maine died from hydrophobia last night. He was bitten by a dog some weeks ago. Two other men were bitten by the same dog and will be sent to the Pasteur institute in New

The grand jury of the U. S. court in Boston has indicted H. F. Bradburg, the dean of Trinity university, in Vermont, for issuing bogus diplomas.

Rt. Rev. Mgr. McManus, an old an widely known Catholic prelate and vicar general of that diocese, died at Geneva, N.

Ex-Governor Curtin will preside at the dedication of the Reserves monument at Gettysburg on September 2. The Senate passed a bill for $100,000 public building at Allentown.

It is declared probable that the popula tion of Connecticut will be shown not large enough to retain the state's congressions representation of four. The farming vil-lages have decreased in population.

Walters, who was sentenced to be sho by a Mexican judge at Paso del Norte, and the other Americans sentenced to ten years imprisonment, are held in barracks pending an appeal to the supreme court of The secretary of state cabled Consul General Williams, at Havana, for facts concerning A. J. Diaz, a Baptist minister, wh was arrested and imprisoned, and who claims to be an American citizen and the victim of religious persecution. Among the bills passed by the Senate to dey was one for a public building at Al-toons. Pa., the cost not to exceed $100,000. The Fourth of July. The Fourth of July is to be celebrated in great shape this year at Lititz and Ephrate,

The crowd at Ephrata, it is expected, will be one of the largest ever seen in the town At 9:30 there will be a ball game between Akron and Ephrata. At 2 o'clock there will be a parade of camps of the order of the upper part of the county, besides Knights of the Golden Eagle and Mystic Chain. There will be exhibition drills afterwards and B. Frank Eshleman and Marriott Brosius will deliver short ad dresses in the evening. The whole will wind up with a great display of fireworks The celebrated Germania and Ringgold bands, of Reading, will furnish the music.

Lititz has made extensive preparations and that borough, as usual, will be thronged. New benches have been placed in the spring grounds and other accommo dations have been provided for the crowd Two bands of music have been engaged and there will be plenty of amusement.

Twice in the Dog Pound. Liveryman David Haverstick has a grea time with a hunting dog he owns. A week ago the dog ran away from home and turned up in the dog pen in the station house yard, presided over by the do catcher. Mr. Haverstick paid $1.50 and redeemed his dog. He took him home and put a muzzle on him. The muzzle rubbed the dog's head and this morning it was removed for a few minutes. The dog saw an opportunity for a run around the town, and he skipped out. His liberty was of short duration, for in half an hour he was in his old quarters in the pen. soon as Mr. Haverstick heard of his where abouts he remarked that the dog catches might find lots of worthless curs on the street if he would be as active in catching them as in catching good dogs. They Now Pitch Quoits. The Eastern End is a great part of th town for sport, and if they do not have one kind they have another. At present they have the quoit pitching craze, and that sec tion is full of champions. The pitching ground is at the Shamrock hotel, and to accommodate the pitchers Proprietor Donnelly has had a large electric light put up so that the sport can proceed after dark A match for a prize has been arranged be tween Charlie Dinkieberg and George Norbeck for Monday evening.

A Remarkable Youth. In the annual grade list of the boys' high school the lad who stands at the head of the third class, Master Solomon Spoohnt, is a Russian youth from Odessa, sixteen and a half years of age, who came alone to this country eight months ago utterly ignorant of the English language. He was in Prof. Matz's school for two months and then went into the high school, where he has made phenomenal progress during the past

A Birthday Surprise Party. Last evening a pleasant birthday surprise party was given to Miss Dora G. Montieth, at her home, No. 530 South Prince street, There were about thirty-five couples present, including the girls from Huber & Holman's candy factory. Miss Montieth received a number of beautiful presents. The time was passed in dancing, playing games and partaking of an elegant supper.

They Each Got a Month. John Myers is the name of the man who gave Officer Heidig much trouble to arrest him yesterday. He is quite an old fellow but he made a desperate fight, and for his trouble he was given thirty days in jail. Adam Waverly was found in East King street so drunk that he could scarcely see and Officer King was obliged to almost carry him to the station house. He also got one month in jail.

Murderer Tascott Caught. A telegram received in Kansas City on Friday night states that on Thursday in Washington county, Arkansas, five Finkerton detectives captured Tascott, the renowned Chicago murderer. He had been watched for some time, and had been identified by parties from Chicago. This, if true, confirms the story told some months ago by a convict in the Missouri peni-tentiary as to Tascoti's whereabouts.

Valace of Sashion.

PALACE OF FASHION.

ASTRICH'S

Palace of Fashion, 115 & 117 N. Queen St.,

LANCASTER, PA. Spurrie. at the house and afternoon, while at home, he went back smashed in the glass of le in that way unlocked it. He s.

pairs of pantaloons, a hat, shawl, stoc. He was seen leaving the house by a little girl, who told Mr. Hess' son Jacob. The young man went after the fellow, who was very saucy. He said : "The next time I come around I will make a clean sweep. Mr. Hess did not think it was a casine game, so he did not give the fellow a chance to make the sweep. He and the neighbors took him into custody and kept him until the chief of police came. They found all of the goods in the bundle. When Bergenson was arrested he said his name was Peters, but last night he told what it really was. He is a strapping big fellow, with a bad look, and talks broken English, as he was born in Denmark. When asked by the alderman if he had anything to say he replied that he was not guilty. He said that he was a cigarmaker, although he told the chief of police that he was a puddler, and had been to Ephrata in search of work. While walking along the road he found the bundle of clothing which he had just picked up when Mr. Hess came up. When arrested the accused had a number of pawn tickets. The alderman committed him for trial at court.

WANTS HIS GRANDCHILD. A Dispute Over the Custody of Jacob E.

Warner's Child. An interesting case of habeas corpus wa heard before Judge Patterson, in the orphan's court room, on Friday afternoon. It was for the possession of the child of Jacob E. Warner, of West Earl township. The child is 21 months old, and the contestants for its possession are Henry O. Buch, of Owl Hill, Warwick township and Jacob E. Warner. B. F. Davis ap peared for Mr. Buch, the grandfather, and Wm. D. Weaver represented the father.

Alice Warner, the mother of the child made her home with her father for severa months prior to her death, which occurred about two weeks ago. She made a dying request to per parents to keep and raise the child, and also made a will a few days be fore her death, in which the same reques appears.

The testimony of the grandfather of the child was to the effect that Warner, while living apart from his wife, rarely visited her and contributed nothing to her supporor that of the child. After the death of the child's mother, and unti! Sunday last, the grandparents had the child. On that day Warner called at the house of the Buch and after talking for a few minutes with them Warner asked to see his child and it was shown to him. He took it in his arms and before Mr. Buch knew what Warner was doing he ran out of the house with the child, put it in a buggy and drove away with it. As soon as he recovered from his surprise he consulted Squire. Reidenbach of Lititz, about bringing a suit for abdue tion, but was advised to get the child through a writ of haboas corpus,

For the Buchs it was shown that they had a good home for the child, where it would be properly reared. Warner proved by his neighbors that he, too, had a good indertake the raising of the child. The court continued the matter until 10 o'clock on Monday for a further hearing.

Celebrated An Aged Lady's Birthday. Mrs. Elizabeth Schaum, mother of John Schaum, of the City hotel, was 73 years of age yesterday, and in the evening she was given an enjoyable party at the house of her son William, with whom she lives, at No. 216 North Mulberry street. Among those who were present were the sisters and brothers of the old lady, her sons, John, William, Benjamir and James, and one daughter, Mrs. Sue Stephens. In addition to these there were ten grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Mrs. Schaum seived the congratulations of her friends, and the evening very pleasantly spent in the and in the yard, which was beautifully illuminated by Chinese lanterns. John Trewitz and George Kissinger, nephews of Mrs. Schaum, furnished excellent music during the evening. A splendid supper hour the happy party broke up with best wishes for a long life to Mrs. Schaum.

was a feature of the evening, and at a late

On Wodnesday evening Washington Camp, No. 40, P. O. S. of A., of New Holland, elected officers as follows : President, E. L. Sutten; vice president, D. E. Overly; master of forms and ceremonies, I. H. Hildebrand; outer guard, Henry Rodman inner guard, J. B. Thomas; trustee, I. H. Hildebrand; delegate to State Camp, E. M. Wallace.

The meeting night was changed from Wednesday to Saturday, and arrangements vere made to take a large crowd to Ephrata on July 4th.

Last evening Inland City Lodge No. K. of P., elected the following officers Past Chancellor, W. F. Coho; chancellor commander, D. M. Good ; vice chancellor, A. E. McCann; private, Harry Eckman master-at-arms, Harry A. Black : masteref exchequer, John S. Kendig; master of finance, Edw. S. Smeltz ; keeper of records, and seals, Jere Rife; trustee (18 months), Daniel Sing: representative to Grand Lodge at Reading, B. F. Bartholomew.

Fire in Ephrata.

EPHRATA, June 28.—Yesterday afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock a fire was discovered in Fulton street, near the foundry, on Peter Kemper's property. The sfire started in an unknown way at the bakeoven, which was at the corner of the main house. The wind caused it to burn rapidly, but before it made much headway it was extinguished by the bucket brigade. The alarm was giver by the foundry whistle followed by others, which at this unusual hour attracted a big crowd of people at once. The fire department responded and were almost ready to work when it was destroyed and the main house is slightly damaged at one corner. Settled Their Troubles. Annie Leitenberger was given a final hearing by Alderman Halbach last evening on a charge of ill-treating ber child, on the complaint of Belle Hammond. This case was dismissed for want of evidence. A surety of the peace case between the same parties was settled and the costs paid.

The truce is only temporary between these parties. In a week or two they will again sue each other. Andrew Ruof, formerly of this city, but for the last ten years living in Akron-Ohlo, is in this city with his family on a summer vacation, visiting his relations.

He looks well. His Pension Restored. The ponsion of Christian Weanzel, Mari-

Bewelere.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, Etc. Watches

A full graduated Opthalmic Optician will give weful attention to the correction of bad vision. WEBER'S. 150% North Queen street, Near P. R. R. Depot ap24-lyd.

JEWELER AND GRADUATE OPTICIAL Graduation Presents!

GOLD WATCHES, SILVER WATCHES, DIAMONDS, JEWELRY AND CANES.

Examination of Eyes Free! No Drops Used !

twenty. the hospita. out of danger. S. GILL points in Illinois, Inc. consin tell of insuffera. wREET. fatalities.

The day is much warmer the terday. The signal service thersis registers 88 degrees at 8 o'clock this ing, or 6 degrees higher than at the hour yesterday. At 11 o'clock the mometer indicates a temperature of a degrees, but at noon a refreshing been blowing and broken clouds occ obscure the sun.

WHAT SIGNAL OFFICERS SAY. WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—The nal office to-day furnished the follow special bulietly to the Press ; The pre period of continual high tempers to Mississippi valler, is unprecedent to one dente sing with Tuesday, 20th, sue lomperature was 10 d normal or usual h it has gradually risen to the to nearly 20 degrees above the maxitemperatures for the past eight days exceeded the highest over known R equal period in June, and have a as follows, viz: Cairo and Springfied, 93 dogrees; Keokuk, 94 degrees; Louis, 95 degrees. The cause of this normal condition has been the unit high pressure in the gulf with almost stationary low pressure in the Northwest. The distribution atmosphere has caused a steady for warm dry air to the northward. The flow of air has been too slow to rainfall, and the consequent clear aky been favorable to extreme radiation the sun which has raised the ter steadily without the usual relief from passage of storms across the somewhat similar conditions p over the eastern part of the United in May, 1881, and in the Middle Miss Valley in June of 1874 and 1887. 16 indication of a change in climate. from these conditions may be expe Sunday night.

Unusually high temperatures have occurred during the past week in the Sc Atlantic states. The maximum temps ture at Wilmington on Friday was degrees, which was I degree higher eyer before recorded in June.

RED HOT IN CINCINNATI. CINCINNATI, June 28,-The heat has creased since morning se that at one p it is five degrees hotter than at the hour yesterday. Mr. Herman La a well known brewer, was prostrated his residence this forenoon and is scious. The most marked effect. eight deaths reported yesterday 25 children under two years of age: deaths are from various causes, not stroke, but evidently their silments affected by the extreme heat. INDIANAPOLIS. June 28 .- At 125 96 in the shade.

WEATHER FORECASTS. WASHINGTON, D. C., June Fair, followed by showers; warmer; northerly winds. Herdid Weather Forecasts, caused a current in the Atlantic states, caused storm off the Nova Scotia coast, will its strength to-day.

The "hot wave" still covers the coast to Caif northward to Minnesote Herdid Weather Forecasts.-The

The "hot wave" still covers the countrom the Gulf northward to Minnesots the upper lake regions, with maximate temperatures yesterday of 90 degrafation of the section with the section until Momenta of the section of the section until Momenta of the warmer, fair weather, with light, very winds, becoming southerly. Europ steamers now leaving New York have generally fair weather and I westerly and southerly breezes to Banks.

RAILROAD SCHEMES.

The Western Maryland's Tidewater Line Project is Still Alive. Messrs. John A. Hambleton & Co., bank-ers, give the prospectus of the Westers Maryland Tidewater Railroad company. Mr. T. Edward Hambleton, is one of the directors of the Western Maryland. "Simultaneously with the building of the tidewater line, it is proposed to con-struct a breen line, about 29 miles in length, from the Baltimore and Harris burg railway, a division of the West Maryland, through York to a connection with the Philadelphia and Reading re road at Chickies, in Lancaster, Pa. ; a branch line, 20 miles in length, from Thomasville, upon the proposed You and Chickles line, to Bowmans upon the Harrisburg and Poto-mac railroad, about eight miles week of Harrisburg, and to operate its trains to and from Chickies and Harrisburg under contracts already made with the Philadel phia & Reading railroad company for Ath Interchange of business and for trackage b tween Bowmansdale and Harrisburg the Philadelphia & Reading company not having a large force employed in bridging the Susquehanna river, and compl the unfinished portion of the Harris burg & Potomac railroad between Bo mansdale & Harrishurg. The plans cover an extension of the main line of the Western Maryland railroad, under the name of the Potomac Valley railroad. The Western Mrryland Railroad company will lease the Tidewater and other proposed lines, paying a rental equal to five per cent. upon the outstanding bends of the Tidewater company, and will enter checked by buckets. The bakeoven was into a traffic contract with each of the preposed new lines to supply to it passe and freight traffic in sufficient amounts to enable it to carn the necessary amount to pay its expenses and five per cent. upuo the cost, either as a dividend or interest upon bonds.

> Strack By a Street Car. The Millersville street car struck the wagen of Frank Huber, confectioner, at the corner of Mary and Orange last night. The front wheel of the wagen was broken beyond repair.

The Dependent Pension "I'll Signed. The president of Friday and the dependent possion bill, under and hall vetorials of the Union army or na V who are incapable of carning a livelihous, and thoir widows and children, will receive peterions.

- -----